dical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

ONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE

URES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

N ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED

he above rules, established Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, which have done so much cure the reputation of this stitute, are still adhered to, rding those in need of dical aid, the certainty of and the utmost confidence. There is nothing of so great portance to the sick as to w where to find a physi- whose skill and humanity [illegible] arance of proper and [illegible] treatment. The Doc- would respectfully call the ntion of those of both sexes [illegible] suffering or in trouble the invariable success that marked the career of the [illegible] in the seventeen years [illegible] istence.

It is unnecessary in this con- [illegible] to enumerate all the plaints treated at the In- ute, but the Doctor feels it duty to call especial atten- to that terrible scourge, [illegible] INAL WEAKNESS, that is sapping with its in- [illegible] the very life of its [illegible] in the treatment and of which the Institute has [illegible] so enviable a reputa-

READ! READ

[illegible] aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a sub[illegible] manly vigor through the loss of the [illegible], the ignorant may suppose my mo[illegible] to point out to those who suffer [illegible], the true cause of their affliction, [illegible] to be forced into abeyance. How m[illegible] of Seminal Weakness is [illegible] who devotes his time to its [illegible], but its [illegible] can be detected by [illegible] by noting the following symp- [illegible] of the back and limbs languishing [illegible] power, nervousness, irritability; [illegible] by hot head; sympt[illegible] [illegible] of the face ever- [illegible] loss of memory, [illegible] light discharges upon the [illegible] of the heart, [illegible]

YOUNG MAN, if you exper[illegible] any of the various [illegible] consider the [illegible] in which you may secure [illegible] You may feel [illegible] now, [illegible] vice of [illegible] even to the [illegible] you have the seeds of weakness [illegible] we will, sooner [illegible] Bliss of your strength is the [illegible] being. EASTERN NEWS

By Overland Mail—Dates to Aug [illegible]

From overland papers of dates to August [illegible] we get the following

VARIOUS ITEMS FROM THE PLAINS

(Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune)

OMAHA Aug 2 A telegram received from Hon Schuyler Colfax announces his [illegible] visit the mountains for [illegible] He positively declines public receptions or [illegible] strations

The weather for the past three days has been very stormy

The total shipments of freight by the Chief Quartermaster for this department for the year ending July 30th is over forty million pounds Of this thirty million pounds have been forwarded West over the Union Pacific Railroad from Omaha

It is currently reported that three gamblers former residents here were [illegible] by Vigilantes at Sioux City on Thursday

[illegible] D T Aug 2—The Union Pacific [illegible] now completed thirty five miles west of [illegible] here The road is being pushed towards Green River very rapidly

Large numbers of Mormons have arrived They were met here by teams sent for them by friends in Utah

INDIANA—A BLATHERSKITE DEMOCRATIC WORKMAN [illegible]

INDIANAPOLIS Aug 2—A blatherskite named Trevellick from Detroit who has been humbugging the workingmen's organizations throughout the country for the past two years appeared in this city last night and made a regular Democratic speech He threw off the false mask and went the whole Democratic doctrine without reserve He was escorted to the stand by the White Boys in Blue Several mechanics who voted a mongrel ticket called the Wellington ticket last fall were disgusted with the affair and [illegible] intend [illegible] of voting the entire Republican ticket hereafter After the close of the meeting a number of persons who were supposed to be ex Confederate soldiers who are members of the White Boys in Blue amused themselves with parading the streets cheering for Jeff Davis Stonewall Jackson and Horace Greeley with a rope to hang him

It is stated here that Gen Robert E Lee the leader of the armies of the Lost Cause will spend this month at French Lick Springs, in Orange county in this State as the guest of Dr Wm Bowles the leader of the Sons of Liberty in this State

DEFICIT OF EIGHT MILLIONS IN THE POSTAL REVENUE

WASHINGTON July 31—The annual statement of Post Office Department for the fiscal year ending the 30th of June will show an alarming deficit In 1865 it will be remembered there was a surplus of $[illegible] In 1866 there was a deficit the first for several years of $965,193 In 1867 this deficiency amounted to $3,[illegible] In 1868 it will prove to be [illegible] numbers $8,000,000 This annually increased deficit is owing to several causes, and prominent among them are the restoration of mail service on Southern routes and subsidies for oceanic mail service but the causes which, wholly or in part, were in operation in 1867 do not fully account for the alarming deficiency in 1868 which must be looked for in other directions The voluntary increase of pay granted by the Postmaster General to contractors on Northwestern routes has added considerably to this last deficit

THE MILITARY QUESTION IN THE TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE ETC

NASHVILLE Tenn July 31—Generals Cheatham Maury and Bushrod Johnson sought and obtained an interview with the Military Committee of the Legislature The conference lasted two hours and was cordial and satisfactory on both sides These ex Confederate Generals expressed the most decided hostility to the programme of forcible resistance to the State government inaugurated by conservatives and rebel politicians They expressed themselves in strong terms respecting those restless politicians who are urging the people to resist the constituted authorities They pledged themselves to go through the State if necessary and use their personal influence to promote peace and put an end to the operations of the Ku Klux General Cheatham spoke with deep feeling saying that he kept the parole which he gave when he surrendered always about his person and felt that he was in honor bound to yield quiet and honest obedience to the laws

There will be a convention in this city to-morrow of thirteen general officers of the late Confederate army to take into consideration what they can do to preserve the peace of the State The Military Committee is calmly considering the situation but will mature no measures before next week A firm policy has been resolved upon There will be no backing down on account of the threats of war fulminated by reckless politicians The indications to day are favorable to a preservation of the peace

The Presidential campaign was opened in Tennessee to-night in splendid style by a speech at the Capitol by General W B Stokes An immense audience listened to the address, which was enthusiastically cheered

A DISHEARTENING DEMOCRATIC FIZZLE AT LAFAYETTE, INDIANA

LAFAYETTE Ind July 31—The disgraceful failure of the Democratic demonstration yesterday is the principal theme of conversation on the street to day After announcing by flaming posters that Pendleton and Hendricks [illegible] big guns would be present and posting every corner of the district with their bills the affair turned out a miserable failure An investigation to day shows from actual figures that less than fifteen hundred came from outside of the city The Course says for a town meeting it would have been a very respectable affair but as a congressional mass meeting it was a grand fizzle Pendleton's speech was a very weak effort

Hon Thomas R Nelson late Minister to Chili and [illegible] opponent of Dan Voorhees for Congress opened the campaign to night in a splendid speech He scared the Democracy right and left walking into Pendleton and Hendricks rough shod and reviving some very unpleasant facts in their political history before and during the war He completely upset their claim that the Democracy was founded on immutable principles [illegible] their records and showing what [illegible] principles they had at different times espoused in hopes of success

Hon Carl Schurz speaks to-morrow night There will be a big turnout

The Germans in this [illegible] city have this year forsaken the rotten Democracy almost [illegible]

RECEPTION OF GENERAL CARL SCHURZ

INDIANAPOLIS July 31—General Carl Schurz arrived in this city this morning and was met at the depot by a committee of German and American citizens who escorted him to the Bates House where he received calls during the day After supper three companies of German Fighting Boys in Blue carrying torches Chinese lanterns and transparencies headed by brass bands escorted him to M[illegible] Hall where he was greeted with great enthusiasm He spoke nearly two hours in German with great force and to the infinite delight of his countrymen His speech was received with great favor, and was highly commended by the Germans present It had a fine effect

At a meeting of prominent Republicans to day it was determined to make the mass meeting in this city on the 18th of August the largest demonstration ever held in the State It is expected that there will be ten thousand Fighting Boys in Blue here and half as many Tanners The torch light procession at night will be a great feature of the demonstration A number of the most noted Generals of the war will be present

REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION AT COLUMBIA CITY INDIANA

COLUMBIA CITY July 31 The Germans of this town had a very enthusiastic and well attended Grant ratification meeting at the Tower House to night More than two hundred people were present who listened with much interest to the eloquent remarks of Dr M H [illegible] candidate for Secretary of State and E H[illegible] Esq of Chicago Both gentlemen spoke with great force and elicited frequent applause Much enthusiasm was manifested

THE INTERNAL REVENUE COMMISSIONERSHIP

WASHINGTON Aug 1—Governor Cox to day informed the President that his private business would not allow him to accept Mr R[illegible] place The action of Mr Johnson in tendering the Commissionership of Internal Revenue to Gov Cox, of Ohio is interpreted here by Democrats to mean that the President is not particularly desirous of having [illegible] of the Revenue Department used in the interest of Seymour and Blair In this feeling he has a strong support among the members of his Cabinet four of whom have no sympathy with the Democratic ticket [illegible] Seward Schofield Evarts and Randall [illegible] Seward leaving for Auburn

IMPORTANT TREATIES WITH THE INDIANS

WASHINGTON July 20—The treaties now being made with the Indians, by General Sherman, are different from those previously negotiated They begin by asserting that, from the day of signing the treaties all war shall cease forever The government of the United States desires peace, and its honor is pledged to keep it The Indians desire peace and they have now pledged their honor If bad men among the whites or among other people subject to the authority of the United States shall commit any wrong upon the person or property of the Indians the United States will, upon proof made as to the amount and forwarded to the Commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington City proceed at once to cause the offender to be arrested and punished, according to the laws of the United States, also to reimburse the injured persons for the loss sustained If the men among the Indians shall commit a crime or depredation upon the person or property of any one—white, black or Indian—subject to the authority of the United States, and at peace therewith, the Indians agree that they will deliver up the wrongdoer to the United States to be punished according to the laws, and, in case they refuse to do so, the person injured shall be reimbursed for his loss from the annuities from the United States

A reservation is to be set apart for each tribe within which the United States pledges itself to cause to be erected at the [illegible] point where timber and water may be convenient, the following buildings A warehouse, to cost not exceeding $2,500 an agency building, for the residence of the agent not to cost exceeding $3,000, a carpenter shop and blacksmith shop, not to cost exceeding $1,000 each, and a schoolhouse and chapel, as soon as a sufficient number of children can be induced to attend school, which should not cost to exceed $5,000 Indians wishing to cultivate land are to have farms surveyed for them and are to receive seeds and implements, while clothing and goods are to be delivered in the place of all annuities One officer of the army is to inspect the quantity and quality of the goods

In order to insure the civilization of the Indians the necessity of education is admitted, and they pledge themselves to compel their children male and female between the ages of six and sixteen years, to attend school while the United States agrees that for every thirty children between said ages who can attend school a school house shall be provided and a competent teacher shall be furnished

The following articles of great importance

In consideration of the advantage and benefits conferred by this treaty and the many pledges of friendship by the United States the tribes who are parties to the agreement, hereby stipulate that they will relinquish all right to occupy any territory outside of their reservation, as herein defined but to retain the right to hunt any unoccupied lands contiguous to their reservation as long as the large game may range thereon in such numbers as to justify the chase and then, the said Indians further expressly agree

1 That they will make no opposition to the construction of railroads now being built, or hereafter to be built across the continent

2 That they will not interfere with the peaceful construction of any railroad not passing over their reservation as herein defined

3 That they will not attack any persons at home or travelling nor molest or disturb any wagon trains coaches mules, or cattle belonging to the people of the United States, or to persons friendly therewith

4 That they will never capture or carry off from the settlements women or children

5 That they will never kill or scalp white men nor attempt to do them harm

6 That they will not in future, oppose the construction of railroads wagon roads mail stations or other works of utility or necessity which may be ordered or permitted by the laws of the United States but should such roads or other works be constructed on the lands of their reservation the Government will pay the tribe whatever amount of damages may be assessed by three disinterested persons to be appointed by the President for that purpose—one of said Commissioners to be a chief or head man of the tribe

7 They will make no opposition to the military posts or roads now established not in violation of the treaties heretofore made or hereafter to be made with any of the Indian tribes'

Two of the leading tribes have signed the treaties which the above are the prominent features If the other tribes will sign similar treaties the safety of the overland route will be insured

Another Speech from Wade Hampton

RENEWED MANIFESTATIONS OF DEVOTION TO THE LOST CAUSE

(From the Charleston (S. C.) Courier July [illegible])

On Saturday a notice posted upon the various bulletin boards of the city invited the Democracy of Charleston to assemble that evening for the purpose of serenading General Hampton Accordingly at eight o'clock, some 2,000 persons had assembled in the vicinity of the Charleston Hotel to pay homage to Carolina's brave and well beloved son Here were assembled the men who had followed him to victory on many a bloody field men who had suffered the privations of hunger and cold with him who had, with him witnessed the downfall of the cause they loved so well and had seen their country humiliated and crushed lying in the dust, writhing under the lash bestowed by a bitter and uncompromising enemy These were the men who now that the first gray streaks of dawn illumine the dark horizon of our hopes, had assembled to greet their well known, almost adored leader He had led them to victory, even to the cannon's mouth Who so fit to lead them to victory now? These were the emotions that animated this vast throng of human beings and as the band engaged for the occasion sounded forth the dear old tune of Dixie the enthusiasm burst all restraint and gave vent in a shout that made the welkin ring

At 8 30 the line was formed and headed by Muller's (the old Eutaw) band proceeded to the residence of General James Connor Arrived there the immense crowd now considerably augmented, formed in the street in front of the residence and called out lustily for Hampton General Hampton, after repeated calls made his appearance, and was hailed with long and continued shouts of applause Dixie was again called for, and with shouts that almost drowned the notes, was kept up for fully five minutes, during which time General Hampton was standing on the balcony waiting to be heard Silence at length being restored, he said

FELLOW CITIZENS—Your kindness is so great and overpowering on this occasion that it makes me a bankrupt in thanks As many of you who heard me last night know, I am suffering from a severe cold, to-night my voice is in a worse condition than on last night still as you are here, many of you my old comrades and fellow-soldiers, I will endeavor to recall some of the memories of the past that now rush upon me. He then said that he had not forgotten how many gallant soldiers Charleston had furnished him; it was here that he had raised his first company [cheers] and he could not forget them [A voice No!] He could not forget that this command of his gave more gallant officers to the cause than any other in the service. There was Conner [cheers], Garey, Logan [illegible] you remember him [A voice, "We do."] And Butler the brave, generous Butler [A voice Not the Beast'] General Hampton—No [A voice "Three groans for the Beast These were given with effect] [A voice Three cheers for General M. C Butler]

General Hampton then alluded to the distinguished services of Captain Stephen [illegible], who he said was the first [illegible] left this place for the seat of war, and paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the brave and lamented Pettigrew These, he said, were some of the officers given command Of the soldiers he need not speak The [illegible] of their deeds will speak for them He had commanded many men during the war, but there were none who occupied a higher place in his affections, none more endeared to him than those brave soldiers who first went out with him [Cheers] He then alluded to the fall of the cause and the subsequent sufferings of the country He told them that he had in his possession the flag shattered and torn, which they loved so well and under which they had fought so long and patiently. He had preserved it from the general wreck, he had cherished it [Great applause] And he intended to keep it until we had a [illegible] again, to whose keeping he would commit it as one of the most cherished memories of our unfortunate cause He alluded to the brave troops from this city commanded by Colonels Rutledge, Davis and other braves [illegible] furnished by Charleston, He well remembered when an attack was made on Charleston he asked leave from the Secretary of War to call in the members of his legion that were on a furlough He obtained leave, and as fast as his telegrams reached them they came in All obeyed, and came in one by one and in detachments to the defence of old Charleston He had come down here to see his old comrades He had been [illegible], and he felt, he said, like a son who had, after a long absence, come home and received a double welcome It was to Charleston that he first came to raise troops for the war It was to Charleston that he now came after the war was over, and the first prospect of peace appeared His sword, he trusted, was never stained by dishonor or cruelty [A voice, Never] It had been drawn in defence of his State He trusted it had been sheathed in honor And he hoped that it might never be drawn again but if ever the State needed his services again in whatever land he might be, at any time, and under any circumstances, his life was at her disposal [Cheers.] He thought however that the coming victory of the Democratic party would restore the South to her rights in the Union, under the Constitution of our forefathers We must work faithfully, earnestly zealously He trusted that the great demonstration last night would wake up the State to victory at the approaching election In conclusion he said Believe me, fellow citizens I am more touched by the kindness you have shown me than I can express This occasion will always be cherished as one of the happiest memories of my life and I trust that you may all be happy, prosperous and free

SELF-ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in a more [illegible] manner than has hitherto been discovered
The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows
Every fire begins on a small scale, and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every moment's delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no means are ready at hand
The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.
It is always ready for use though standing unused for years
It puts out Fire instantly
It saves the great deluge of water now used for this purpose
It is as effective in the hands of a Boy as the most experienced Fireman
It is portable and as easily handled as a bucket of water
It possesses within itself the power of a force pump and as effective as a Steam Engine
It is the only known invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene Tar Naphtha [illegible] and other [illegible] materials in common use

Both Stupid and Dishonest

Under the head of "False Issues," the Herald says "Either from stupidity or dishonesty no Radical editor ever fairly states any question at issue between the parties." This in reference to an article in the OREGONIAN in which it was stated that the Democratic policy contemplates the issue of $1,600,000,000 greenbacks with which to redeem the outstanding bonds of the government. Without again going over the ground taken in that article, which every reading man will recognize as correct, we propose to show how stupidly and dishonestly Democrats deal with the question of finances. The Herald denies that either the platform or Mr Pendleton ever indicated any such proposition. The platform does make the proposition, indirectly but plainly, by declaring that "when the obligations of the government do not expressly state upon their face or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought in right and in justice be paid in the lawful money of the United States." Mr Pendleton, Mr Seymour and every Democrat who ever opened his mouth on the subject explain "lawful money" to mean greenbacks, so there is no controversy about the meaning of the terms used. Mr Pendleton does propose to issue a sufficient amount of greenbacks to pay the debt, as every man knows who has read his speeches. Now take the total debt in round numbers, at $2,600,000,000, of which something over $2,100,000,000 is in Bonds or interest-bearing notes and a little over $400,000,000 in greenbacks or non interest bearing currency. Now, will any of these wiseacres kindly inform us how a debt of $2,000,000,000 is to be paid in greenbacks with $400,000,000 greenbacks, without a new issue? The Herald claims that of the bond debt, only $200,000,000 is payable in coin. The balance then, $2,400,000,000 must be payable in greenbacks. Take from this, the four hundred millions of greenbacks now in circulation, apply them to the payment of the interest bearing debt, and there still remains $1,600,000,000 of bonds and interest bearing notes to be paid. How shall this be paid in greenbacks without an issue of the whole sum of $1,600,000,000? We say then that there is no dodging the proposition that the Democratic policy is to issue that amount of greenbacks.

To illustrate the profound ignorance of the writer in the Herald, on the question of finances, and to show how valuable is an argument from that source, we beg to quote a sentence. The Herald says. "The $1,600,000,000 five twenty bonds were issued upon a greenback basis, redeemable after five years, and payable twenty years from date." There is richness for you, as Squeers would say. The value of this information will be appreciated when the reader knows that the act authorizing the first issue of five-twenties, provided for the issue of only $500,000,000 and that the whole amount of five-twenties outstanding, of all issues, is only about $1,200,000,000. This is near enough to the exact figures, we suppose, for a Democratic educator in the occult science of finances. The richness of the information that those bonds were issued on a "greenback basis" will be also discovered when it is known that previous to the first act authorizing them, there was not a greenback in existence. The legal tender notes were authorized by the same act, and they were issued at the same time, or nearly so with the bonds. That act not only provided for a coin fund to pay interest, but for a coin fund to pay all the indebtedness of the United States, and the bonds were issued with the distinct understanding that they would be redeemed with coin. So much for the "greenback basis" upon which the five-twenties were issued.

Again, the Herald says "It is not true that Mr. Pendleton's plan contemplated any increase in the currency." How true this statement is, will appear from Mr Pendleton's own arguments against contraction of currency. In a speech delivered since the New York Convention he said

> Five hundred millions of the first issue of 5-20s are already, or will this year be, payable at the option of the government. Redeem these also in legal tender notes. Where will these notes come from? asks some friend. Stop this contraction at the Treasury Department, reverse the whole policy. * * * * But, gentlemen if these measures will not supply funds, speaking for myself, I would expand the currency. * * * * The business of the country has become adjusted to a larger volume of currency than we now have. The demands of the South and West require a greater amount of currency.

Thus Pendleton versus the Herald. As to the Herald's twaddle about the Radicals "oppressive policy," of paying honest debts and thus favoring the bondholder, at the expense of the tax-payer, we wish to quote Seymour a little. Of the proposal to pay most of the bonds in paper money, he said, last March

> It is clear that the proposal has excited alarm not only as to the mode of payment, but as to growing feeling in favor of repudiating the whole debt. * * * * It is a mistake to suppose that the interests of the bondholder and the tax payer are antagonistic. The fact is overlooked that in order to make any saving by giving the bondholder a debased or worthless paper, we must bring upon ourselves disaster and dishonor which will cost a hundred fold what we can save. It means that we are to give to the laborer for his toil a base currency. It means that the honor of our country shall be stained. It means that our business shall be kept in uncertainty and confusion. It means that the laboring man shall suffer by the increased cost of the comforts of life. It means that the tax payer shall be burdened by a government proved to be corrupt and imbecile by the very depreciation of its currency. We cannot afford to speculate upon the nation's honor at so fearful a cost.

Thus Seymour versus the Herald. Is it not clear enough from this Democratic testimony that the financial interests of the various classes of people are not antagonistic, but that they are all bound up together in the credit of the Government which can only be sustained by an honest policy? Does not Seymour make it clear that those who advocate the Herald Pendleton Democratic platform policy are both stupid and dishonest?

General Bowie, Confederate, said recently that he would repudiate the U. S. bonds because he saw on their face a contribution to an unholy war. Democrats everywhere call the war an unholy one and they propose repudiation for exactly the same reason as Bowie.

Governor English of Connecticut, Democratic, has vetoed a bill concerning naturalization and a bill to prevent frauds at elections.

LETTER FROM MARYSVILLE

[illegible]

MARYSVILLE, Cal, Aug 14th 1868

[illegible]

Marysville is one of the prettiest and most attractive towns both in respect to location and building I have visited during my ramblings on the Pacific coast. Nearly all the buildings on the [illegible] are [illegible] and [illegible] little. Many of the streets are lined with beautiful [illegible] trees and the gardens are [illegible] tastefully decorated with [illegible] flowers [illegible] fragrance greet the olfactories at every step. In fact one may, by a slight stretch of imagination, bring to mind [illegible] through the city [illegible] mind is disposed to revery, imagine himself treading the enchanted haunts of Elysian Fields or basking 'neath Araby's [illegible] rather than perambulating the streets of Marysville. The Butte mountains looming in the distance, with [illegible] valleys reposing at their feet lend enchantment to Marysville and surroundings and [illegible] interest for the accumulation of other [illegible].

Within the last few years Marysville has been depopulated to some extent and property has depreciated in value. For instance from my room window I can look upon a beautiful dwelling furnished in the most grand and lavish style and costing its original owner sixty thousand dollars, but which would now sell for about two thousand dollars. A few years ago the city had a population of from eight to ten thousand; now it contains between four and five thousand. The causes which produced this state of things are obvious. Like most California towns, it once depended chiefly upon the mines in the vicinity for its support. The teaming carried on from here to the mountain contributed largely to its prosperity. I am told that the mines along the Yuba river once gave employment to twenty thousand men. The high water and destructive floods which visited this section were also great drawbacks. The people have learned to look to other sources than mining for their wealth and prosperity. Marysville, however, is not yet "played out." The land in this valley is very productive, and although farming has not heretofore been carried on extensively, it must hereafter be the chief element of wealth. The vast population now seeking permanent homes cannot all go by Marysville and what with agriculture, railroads, and the

NEW LEVEE,

Marysville is sure of a bright future, and is evidently destined to be one of the largest and most prosperous inland cities in California. The new levee is now nearly finished. It will be about four miles long and three feet above high water mark. The high water of last winter submerged the streets of the city, giving it a Venice-like appearance and one of the Marysvillians imitated the denizens of the Adriatic city by gliding through the streets in boats. The scenes of last winter awakened the people, and they are now constructing, at great expense this levee, which it is thought will protect the city from all future floods. These high waters have damaged to a great extent some of the lowlands in this vicinity, in some cases destroying orchards and large tracts of land.

YUBA CITY

On the opposite side of Feather river, and a mile from the business portion of Marysville, secluded amid green trees, reposes this ancient burg. It is said to have at one time been "the town," supporting a population of several thousand, but alas! for the frailty of human workmanship, as well as "ships" that don't have workmen—remorseless time has left but few traces of its former greatness. It now has a population of about three hundred. Its streets resemble small alleyways, overgrown with grass and fenced in at one end. The town boasts a lodge of Good Templars, at least I should judge so by the enthusiasm manifested on the occasion of Easy Sen (F. Z. C.) Judson's admirable temperance lecture.

RAILROAD MATTERS

The Yuba railroad is now completed and the cars running to within one mile of this city. This road runs from Marysville to Lincoln, where it connects with the California Central, running from Lincoln to Roseville, the California Central there connecting with the Central Pacific. The Marysville and Vallejo railroad, I believe, is finished beyond Woodland, and a branch of the road is completed to within about twenty miles of Sacramento. The Yuba railroad connects with the California Northern railroad, which runs from Marysville to Oroville. I believe it is not yet known how the California and Oregon Railroad Company will arrange this end of their road. It is thought by some that they will build a separate road via Chico, leaving Oroville out of the line altogether, and others think the roads beforementioned will be consolidated with and incorporated in the California and Oregon Company. The future of Portland is no doubt vastly dependent on this road and it is gratifying to know that work has commenced in earnest on your end of the line. California sends greeting to Oregon and hopes there will be no cessation in this work until the two young and vigorous States are linked together by rail, as they are by commercial and friendly interests.

POLITICS

Politics here are conducted in a very quiet way and although both parties are brightening up their war harness and preparing for the campaign in earnest, there seems to be but little enthusiasm of the bunting spread eagle style. The fact that the Democracy have no organ published here may partly account for the tranquility prevailing on the political sea. Since the demise of the Express, by the decree of that grim old monster, Want, none of the unterrified have been courageous enough to venture out upon the sea of newspaperdom. In this city they are not "wise as serpents"—of the Copperhead species. The nominations of Seymour and Blair do not appear to set very well on the stomachs of the Democracy here and it is rather painful to witness the contortions of some who are endeavoring to swallow the "blue mass."

A grand Democratic ratification meeting was held here some time since. One of the speakers said in his speech "We will wage this war till we drive the usurper from the Capital of the nation." If they "fight it out on that line" what a long siege they will have of it!

A Grant and Colfax Club has been for some time in operation here. They have recently suspended across Third street a beautiful banner bearing the inscription "Grant and Colfax Club." The Germans, also imitating the example, have recently organized a similar Club.

CAXTON'S WEATHER

During the months of May and June we have experienced Caxton's weather, or, in other words, cooler weather than we are usually blessed with in this section during those months. Caxton (formerly a lawyer of this city), prophesied that the weather would be unusually cool during those two months, basing his conclusions upon the peculiar conjunction of the Moon, Jupiter and Venus, which took place on Monday and Tuesday evenings the 27th and 28th of last January. This prediction has been verified, I believe, all over California. In July we had a more pleasant days the thermometer ranging as high as 106° and upwards. August has brought with it, so far, only an average of about 80°, and this is attended frequently by invigorating breezes.

RARA AVIS

One of the fowlest tricks that ever came to my knowledge took place in Marysville about two months since. A citizen owned a number of chickens and an old turkey gobbler. Some of the hens went to setting. At this the gobbler became jealous and proceeded to gobble the nests of the hens which he did by fighting the hens and frightening them off their eggs, when he would commence setting upon the eggs himself. The owner concluded he would satisfy the gobbler's curiosity and for bait gave him a nest of hen's eggs to himself. Mr G was faithful to his trust and brought out nine or ten fine chickens, which he has since nurtured as tenderly and fought as bravely for as any old hen could do. This is the most egg-traordinary feat ure I have ever known amongst the fowl kingdom.

CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS

Marysville has seven Protestant Churches and one Catholic Church. She has a fine public school besides private schools. The Catholics also have a large Convent building in charge of the Sisters of Notre Dame. It is said to be well conducted and the pupils are attached to their convent home. The churches are pretty well supported and the interest in religious matters [illegible]. [illegible] the [illegible] Rev Dr McKinzer [illegible] is pastor of the Presbyterian Church. He is a gentleman of more than average ability—his discourses are highly spoken of by all who have had the pleasure of attending his ministrations. His Fourth of July oration was an eloquent and learned production. Marysville may well be proud of one so highly gifted.

A GENIUS

Like all other places Marysville has her eccentric characters. One of these is an old negro who goes by the name of Old George. This African gentleman possesses an amount of good hard sense that would do credit to many white men in this place, and he has it by numerous mottos [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] great amount [illegible] [illegible] George is a thorough [illegible] [illegible] his faults perhaps [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Republican [illegible] [illegible] that he would be a fine fellow, and a [illegible] bath [illegible] [illegible]."

YUBA [illegible]

[illegible] products of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] turkeys [illegible] chickens [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 120 gallons brandy and [illegible] gallons wine.

[illegible]

A Mr [illegible] of this city recently gave birth to triplets—two girls and one boy. They have been christened Mary Ann, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] they are represented as being quite pretty.

The [illegible] and measles so prevalent at [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of Marysville. May it always be [illegible] [illegible] of people here, that they are clear of this loathsome disease.

Professor Wallace recently gave us [illegible] exhibitions [illegible] [illegible] entertaining, giving several public drives on our streets and beautifully illustrating [illegible] power of man over this noble animal.

The [illegible] of the Northern District of California will open here on the 7th of September and continue six days.

Many are availing themselves of the privilege of registering before the election, and enrolling their names on the Great Register.

The Union [illegible] of this city intend by and by to hold a grand Grant and Colfax demonstration.

Political Brevities

The election in Virginia to ratify the new constitution occurs August 11, 14 and 15.

The Bedford correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writing from the Springs states that Justice Grier, now among the visitors at that famous watering place, regards Grant's election as morally certain.

Mr Seymour's Private Secretary writes a letter to H R Dunn, of Bloomington to say Seymour never owned a dollar's worth of United States bonds. Of course he never did. No one dare assert that he ever contributed a dollar towards putting down the rebellion.

The Hartford Courant says "While the Southern Democrats were out on their little excursion under Davis and Lee they killed 5,000 Connecticut men. The survivors are invited to elect a President to suit the murderers immediately upon their return."

The Philadelphia Press says "From our Democratic exchanges we have clipped one hundred and thirty three articles headed 'The real issue,' every one of them presenting a different subject. If issues continue to increase at this rate up till election time, each member of the Democratic ranks will stand on his own platform, the only plank of which will be, 'Pass the beaker up Salt River.'"

The Cincinnati Commercial says "The Republicans are waking up. The city is now thoroughly organized—with Grant Clubs in every ward. It is proposed to hold a grand ratification meeting on the 12th of August. A resolution to that effect was adopted at a meeting of the Hamilton County Executive Committee yesterday. The arrangements for speakers, music, &c will be announced as soon as perfected."

The Democracy of the First West Virginia (Hubbard's) District, have nominated Henry S Walker of Wheeling for Congress. His opponent is General J H Duval. In 1866 the Republican majority was 1,462. In the Second (Kitchen's) District the Democrats have nominated the Hon W G Brown, of Kingwood, against the Hon J C McGrew. The Republican majority in 1866 was 3,166.

Hon David Kilgore, formerly a leading Republican of Indiana but who followed Andrew Johnson into the Democratic ranks three years ago, has returned to his first love. He cannot support the chief of the anti draft rioters and is opposed to Frank Blair's new rebellion. Pretty much all the conservative Republicans who strayed away during the last three years are now back in the party. They come to stay.

The Copperhead papers assert that there is a great political reaction in favor of Seymour and Blair and for proof they offer you the fact that Senator Doolittle, Norton, Dixon, and a few others, that acted with the Republican party many years since support that ticket. On similarly strong grounds the devils in Hades doubtless thought there was a tremendous "reaction" when Lucifer, flung from the battlements of heaven, came tumbling into their midst.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Mail, in detailing the construction of the Democratic platform says, after alluding to the incorporation of Wade Hampton's plank:

But at the same time the committee with but a single dissenting voice, acknowledged that the remedy for the unconstitutional proceedings at the South would rest with the Executive. The sentiment of the Committee and Convention upon the question of the remedy agreed with the declaration of General Blair, and was satisfactory to every Southern delegate.

The Mobile Tribune (Seymour and Blair) says "Let us be up and doing! Let us form our clubs in every city, in every town, and in every village of Alabama. We must in the first place, break up the loyal leagues, and to do this it is only necessary that the negroes should be properly instructed. Point out to the negroes the way they should go. Tell them that the carpet baggers in the Legislature are the veriest scum thrown up by the boiling cauldron of the late revolutionary war, that they are a gang of political vagabonds on the prowl for plunder and they will surely aid you in driving the unprincipled wretches from the State."

The Louisville Journal says of Kentucky "She went against the South with the gait of a sorrowful but resolute giant." And that "when she struck her heaviest blows she did not turn her face."

The naked truth is that for every white man Kentucky furnished for the Union army she sent two white men to the rebel army. Left to herself, she would have followed Virginia into the Confederacy. It was the Union soldiers of the Northwest who restrained the "giant" from seceding, and threshed the Kentucky rebels—including the sons of the editor of that paper.

FAVOR.—The Editor of the Geo. S. Wright has our thanks for [illegible] [illegible] files of Sitka papers.

The Republicans of Amesbury, Massachusetts held a ratification meeting on Friday evening last. Hon. [illegible] Caswell was the principal speaker and the resolutions were introduced by John G. Whittier, the poet. The following one is to the point:

Resolved. That the convention platform and candidates of the Democratic party prove that it has learned nothing by its past experiences and humiliations, that as a party it is still disloyal in its dissent and unfaltering sympathy and alliance with unrepentant rebels, and that the late declaration of the pirate Semmes that whether plundering and burning our merchantmen on the high seas or making speeches for Seymour and Blair, he had been doing one service for the Democratic party, is unhappily less a figure of speech than the utterance of truth.

THE OVERLAND RAILROAD.—The gap between the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific railroads on the 10th of the present month was only 717 miles, and the track was being laid at the rate of seven miles per day. On the Central Pacific it is expected that 273 miles more of track may be laid by the middle of November. This will take the terminus to about the Humboldt Wells, within about 200 miles of Humboldt which is the objective point of the Union Pacific. The latter, at Fort Bridger, has [illegible] only about 550 miles of its track to lay down. Each company however has a much easier grading to do than at present encountered before they can connect, and the present rate of speed cannot be kept up. The best informed authorities state that the cars will pass from one road to the other before the 1st of July, 1869. The two companies are employing near 20,000 laborers.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 16.

Atrocities Committed by Indians.

ST LOUIS, Aug 18.—A letter dated Ellsworth, Kansas, Aug 11th says that on the 12th a band of 40 Indians appeared on Spillman's Creek 10 miles northeast of Ellsworth. Arriving at the house of Mr Shaw they caught and beat him unmercifully, drove him away, then caught Mrs Shaw and her sister and violated their persons. Some 30 or more of them continued the abuse of the helpless women long after they had become helpless. Then destroying the property they left them for dead. They then proceeded to the residence of Mr Smith, beat him in the same manner and served his wife, leaving her in a critical condition. It is feared the women will not recover. They met and abused several of the other [illegible] [illegible] beating them and after destroying all of their [illegible] left for the north. The women [illegible] [illegible] five or six hours they were subjected to all treatment. They show marks of the most revolting usage made by being beaten in attempting to defend themselves. A detachment of twenty soldiers was sent after the Indians from Fort Harker and [illegible] fifty or sixty settlers on Wednesday night. They called for reinforcements and on Thursday a full company under command of [illegible] went over. The latest report was that Benton had come on the Indians who had some ten or fifteen women surrounded in a house and that he had driven them away, but whether he had killed any of them is not known. They are probably some of the Indians that have been murdering and committing other outrages on Solomon Creek.

Fire at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 19.—The provision stores of Hollins and Robb, on Front street, were entirely destroyed by fire this morning. Loss $150,000; insured for $40,000. Bullock Bros had 500 sks of fine wool stored in the building. Their loss is $40,000.

War Rumors Denied

NEW YORK, Aug 19.—A yellow fever case is reported in Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, Aug 18.—There is no foundation for the rumor of the impending war between France and Prussia. The French legation consider the report absurd and the Prussian Minister has received no information looking to such an event. There is no authority for saying that no purchases of horses on account of the French army in this country have been made.

Appointment of Collectors.

At a Cabinet meeting to-day, it is supposed that the appointment of Collectors of Customs of Alaska and New Orleans were considered.

Another Fenian Scare

TORONTO, Aug 18.—The Globe professes to have positive information that extensive preparations are being made on the other side for a Fenian raid. The military has been ordered to hold themselves in readiness at a moment's notice.

From the West Indies

HAVANA, Aug 19.—Advices from Port au Prince to the 10th have been received. The revolutionists met with new reverses and were steadily losing ground. Salnave had committed some atrocities which led to a protest of foreign consuls at the capital. The British minister threatened that if the outrages were renewed he would order the English war steamer in the harbor to bombard the city. It was reported that Salnave finding his position desperate, had contemplated flight. His family and baggage were captured on board the steamer Sylvia which fell into the hands of the rebels.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

LONDON, Aug 18.—The English journals publish a letter from Rio Janeiro in which the writer says the new cabinet under Viscount Itabardi is inclined to peace and a great majority of the people of Brazil are tired of war with Paraguay and are clamoring for peace. The same correspondent asserts that the Argentine Confederation are no less desirous of terminating hostilities, and states that when the protocol of a new treaty of alliance with Brazil was recently submitted to the Argentine Congress it met with great opposition and was in fact annulled.

LONDON, Aug 18.—The Herald to-day thinks that many abler Americans than Stevens have lately been lost, but the Republican party will long feel they could have spared a better man.

BERLIN, Aug 18.—It is officially announced that Switzerland has summarily rejected any proposal of France looking to an alliance with that power.

PARIS, Aug 15.—The following are among the promotions and honorary appointments decreed by the Emperor on his fete day: Count de Sartiges, formerly Minister to the United States, M. Chas Etienne Conti, Counsellor of State and Private Secretary to the Emperor, and M August Nelaton the eminent physician were made counsellors. M Bourdillon and M Lyon Jourdain, Consul of France at New York were decorated as Chevaliers of the Legion of Honor.

The election of a member of the Corps Legislatif in the department of the Jura, resulted in the success of M Grevy, candidate of the opposition, by a majority of 1,100 votes over Huato, the official candidate of the government.

European mail advices contain the following: The London journals announce the death of Dr J. E. Elliott, whose name for many years has been widely known among scientific and medical men in both hemispheres.

A rumor prevails that Louis Blanc has decided upon returning to France for the general election.

Napoleon subscribed 1,000 francs towards a memorial to Cobden at Camden town.

The Opinione Nationale says Duke Aljis, of Russia, is now en route for the United States and has been charged with bringing the American and Russian governments into close relations.

Garibaldi has written from Caprera a letter which appears in a Bologna paper. It is full of fierce imprecations. It thus concludes "I shall believe the people mean freedom when I see the [illegible] of St. Petersburg turned into an asylum for the indigent, when I see the flask of St. Januarius broken on the treasured path of the ludicrous miracle. Come what will, I shall die happy if on that day when you fight for Italian freedom in which I hope will be soon, I can follow you at least in an ambulance."

FROM THE NORTH

Terrible Steamboat Boiler Explosion

OLYMPIA, Aug 20.—The steamer Resolute, Capt Goulden, master, Muggard Cawley, of the Port Madison mills, was exploded her boiler at 9 o'clock last night, while towing a raft near North Bay. Capt Gundon and Nicholas Janowich, deck hand, were the only survivors. Captain Gundon had one leg broken and his face and hands considerably scalded. He was conveyed to this place for medical treatment, reported out of danger. Six lives were lost—either killed or drowned—named as follows: Leonard Greenlaw and Capt H W Perkins, (passengers) the latter formerly of Walla Walla; Joseph Sherman, engineer; Andrew Smith and Barney Dagton, firemen and a Chinaman cook. The boat is a total loss sinking immediately after the explosion. The cause of the disaster is unknown.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

CANYONVILLE, Aug 20.—Hymon Abraham who was injured by the breaking of his right leg by the capsizing of the stage some two weeks since, had his leg amputated this morning just below the calf. The operation was performed by Dr Grube.

The New Albany papers detail the alarming ravages of the cattle disease in that neighborhood, and elsewhere in Indiana. All the cattle which have fallen victims to the disease, have been found to be infested with ticks and vermin, of the kind usually seen on Texas cattle, and some farmers attribute the disease to inflamation and congestion, arising from the poison of these vermin. The New Albany Commercial says "It is noticed that the cows attacked by this singular disease, are all affected in the urinary organs, the urinary discharges being almost entirely suppressed. An examination of several cows after death shows the bladder to be greatly distended, and filled with dark or blood colored matter. In some cases the urinary discharges have been very black and in the bladder, after death, dark colored water and coagulated blood have been found. The symptoms of attack are in all instances the same. First the milk begins to fail. Then the animal droops its head near the ground, the ears also drooped and moved with apparent pain—the head when opportunity offers, is pressed against any hard or solid substance. About the second day of the attack trembling of the flanks, and short and hard breathing ensue, the animal becomes very weak and its legs bend and are unsteady under its weight; there is a disposition to lie down and almost immediately arise, and this continues until the third day, when the disease usually terminates fatally, few cattle living up to the fourth day after the attack. Only cows have so far been attacked."

Wilkes' Spirit reports that no one has accepted the $5,000 bet that Grant will be elected and now offers to make the odds three to two in Grant's favor.

Don't know what I will do yet

We got into Kenay Bay and cast anchor ... and there three days prospecting round to find a suitable place to land the command but could not The whole country surrounding the Bay is a perfect peat bog about five feet ... and is so soft a man will sink to his knees every step Capt. McGilvray was obliged to put into this place which is the nearest place to Kenay Bay where a safe landing could be made, about twenty miles ... I don't know what in the world ... have not even a change of clothes to my name Only six out of twenty mules were saved.

The boat starts for Kodiac soon and I must close I don't know when you will get this, it will go by way of San Francisco Tell the folks not to be uneasy about my safety—we are all right

GRATHAM'S HARBOR, OR CAPE ORSENOI July 10 '68

DEAR FATHER —Lieut Gifford who started for Kodiac to inform the officers at that place of our condition has returned but was unable to find the post on account of the dense fogs hanging around about the island Capt. McGilvray will send an Indian to-day with letters to the officers in ... and at Kodiac informing them of our condition and asking assistance and a supply of ammunition I think we will get a considerable amount of government stores yet They found fifty revolvers and several muskets yesterday, and will go out at low tide again to-day I have found nothing belonging to me yet have given up all hopes of getting my trunk There are plenty of fish here of all kinds The Indians are very friendly and are helping us all they can Weather very warm and pleasant The Indian will start soon Will write again when I can Don't know when we will go yet.

The Nation's Prayer

The following poem, written by a young lady [illegible] for a [illegible] Aug st 3 1864 [illegible]

[illegible]

Father, never let case traitors
In this land of brave [illegible]
Rule o'er those who soon to be saying,
God—Grant—Victory

Thus to Thee our prayer is [illegible]
Thus we humbly come to Thee
Asking Thee [illegible] accents—
God—Grant—Victory

But if Thou wouldst longer late
We'd submit [illegible] to Thee
K[illegible] His good pleasure
[illegible] grant us Victory

Then when this dread strife is over
And the day of peace we see,
We shall keep our country's watchword—
God and Grant and Victory

Eastern News Items

[From Eastern papers to July 31st

Off the east coast of Newfoundland on the 21st thirty five icebergs were seen from the decks of the steamer City of Paris

Thurlow Weed writes from England "If I had a thousand voices to raise, and as many votes to cast, they should all be pronounced and deposited for Grant against Seymour"

There are places in Indiana where the Seymour ticket is very popular The Kokomo Tribune says that of the seventy one persons committed to the Howard County jail since September 17 1867 sixty-six were Democrats, and only five Republicans.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company employs 1 200 men in its manufacturing department 400 at the Weldon shops 300 at the car works 200 at the Centralia shops and 250 at the Amboy shops The monthly pay roll for this department is about $80 000

Dorence Atwater who on Thursday last was confirmed by the Senate as Consul to Seychelles was confined in Andersonville prison during a portion of the war and on his release brought to his home in Terryville, Connecticut, the record of over 12 000 deaths in that rebel slaughter pen

On Thursday, John Thompson the oldest known inhabitant of Long Island died at Smithtown, at the advanced age of one hundred and four years Mr Thompson served in the continental army during the Revolutionary war and was [illegible] at the battle of Long Island. Until a few months pri[illegible] to his death he has enjoyed good health

Gen Howard, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, has written a letter to Brevet Brigadier General Brooks, Assistant Commissioner for Maryland, directing that the operations of the Bureau in that State, excepting educational work and payment of bounties, as provided by law, be discontinued on and after the 10th of August

Hon. [illegible], Secretary of State of Missouri [illegible] Messrs Knapp & Co., [illegible] of the St. Louis Republican for libel. [illegible] for a statement made in that [illegible] that on Sunday, Mr R[illegible] and [illegible] into a drinking-saloon in Jefferson City, [illegible] imitation of the Lord's [illegible]

General Grant [illegible] and Sheridan arrived at St. Jo[illegible] night and were met at the [illegible] by a large crowd of citizens, and [illegible] enthusiastic [illegible] of cannon, where Colonel Harbine [illegible] address of welcome, after which they were [illegible] by the Grand Army of the Republic and the citizens generally

General Early, late C S A, is frequently visible at the Clifton House, to which he drives in from his residence at Drummondsville a town a mile and a half distant. He cultivates a poor opinion of Grant as a soldier and statesman John C Breckinridge, who is living at Niagara, twelve miles from the falls, was at the Clifton House with Early a day or two ago. They were entertained by a St. Louis man named Claiborne

The French Grant and Colfax Campaign Club of New York have issued an address to the French-Americans of the city and State of New York, in which they say "We think it the duty as well as the interest of every French citizen to further the [illegible] and union of the country by using his utmost endeavors to elect the only man capable of restoring and preserving the Union, prosperity and happiness of the [illegible], and we therefore call upon you to prove your appreciation of the liberties and advantages which the land of our adoption affords us, by [illegible] uniting with us in [illegible] the election of Grant and Colfax to the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the [illegible]"

"[illegible] A Dog on his Travels —We have lately [illegible] placed in the possession of a fact that shows how nearly allied to the reason of a man is the [illegible] of the brute creation. Not long since Mrs. B[illegible], residing in one of the interior counties of Missouri, left her home on a visit to some relatives living in Henry county in this State, bringing with her a favorite dog On arriving in this city, she missed her pet and search and inquiry failing to elicit aught concerning him, she was compelled to continue her journey without him Fourteen days after the lady had left her home, the family were surprised at the reappearance of "Fido," whom they thought worrying the pigs or "baying the moon" in far off Kentucky Not less than 900 miles had been traversed by his dogship, and when it is remembered that he had been brought hither by rail and could have had no trail to lead him back to old quarters—that the broad Ohio and the still broader Mississippi, not to mention hundreds of streams of smaller proportions, lay between him and his puppyhood's home the journey was a remarkable one, and as such must ever distinguish this "dumb brute" as a remarkable dog —Louisville Journal
